NOMINATION CHECKLIST

I, confirm that I have read and understand the following

1. A valid nomination covers all credit union property but that property may be assigned to one person or divided between various nominees. Any clearly identified person can be a nominee - it does not necessarily have to be next of kin.
2. Where only one person is nominated, that person will be the sole beneficiary of your credit union property subject to the maximum permitted by law.
3. The nomination will supersede your will and is not revocable or variable by your will or any codicil to it.
4. Your marriage after completing a nomination automatically revokes that nomination - you may wish to consider completing a new nomination at that time.
5. Death of the nominee (prior to that of the nominator) automatically revokes that nomination - you may wish to consider completing a new nomination at that time.
6. Divorce or separation does not revoke the nomination
7. Completion of a new nomination revokes all previous nominations
8. In order to be valid, the form of nomination must be delivered to the registered office of the credit union during your lifetime.
